A LETTER from Mr. W. K. Smith, of Clifton Forge, Va., enclosing money for subscription, discloses the fact that our ex-townman, Mr. A. A. McKinney, is a merchant as well as an internal revenue officer. The Smith & McKinney Hardware Co., is the style of the firm and from all we can hear they have a good mine.

The beautiful and charming Miss Virginia Bowman, of Danville, daughter of Mrs. Mary Bowman, and Mr. Charles Perry Cecil, Jr., also of Danville, will unite their destinies early in January. We had the pleasure of seeing the bride-to-be and her mother in Lexington Friday and secured a confirmation of the report. A card party was given Miss Allison and the ladies named by Mrs. Curry, which was also an elegant affair.

THE Stanford colony in Danville seemed to be in good spirits yesterday but we opine before another court day rolls around some of the members will be looking longingly toward Lincoln's capital. The Gentrys and Jesse Lynn were busy in their butcher shops, Dr. Penny was jerking out teeth, Thomas Dalton "a fixin'" watches and John Lynn, Jr., writing away in the clerk's office like he was the "whole thing." The families of Messrs. F. Reid, R. S. Lytle, D. S. Johnston, P. C. Underwood and others looked "at home" and as if they might be persuaded to remain in "Little Britain" a few weeks longer.

MR. W. B. WEAREN is in from Grays to attend the marriage.

MR. D. R. HAMILTON and wife, of Louisville, are up to attend the Farris-Wearen wedding.

CLEL EASTLAND is clerking in G. H. Farris & Co's, while the senior member is off on his bridal tour.

THE true courtesy for which the institution is noted far and wide, was shown at the First National Bank at Stanford when a mule walked into the bank and leisurely viewed the surroundings and walked out of his own accord, no kick coming or going.—Somerset Journal.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL will demand of every subscriber not paid in advance $2 a year and will collect it. The paper is only $1 a year, when paid in advance, but we can't credit at that price. Pay up and get the advantage of the very low rate, which you are not getting otherwise.

A SECOND shortage has been discovered in the accounts of the Paris post-office, and Postmaster J. L. Bosley has demanded the resignation of his assistant, Sherman Stivers, who, it is claimed, has a discrepancy in his accounts of $383. The trouble with Bosley seems to be that he has been apeling Yerkes and leaving his business to deputies.

AS Lewis McClanahan, the colored bartender for George Weatherford, of Hustonville, was returning from Danville Friday night, some scoundrel shot at him, the ball striking the horse in the hip, but not hurting him severely. Lewis does not affiliate or associate with the colored rads of his section and this is believed to be the cause of the attack.

SENATOR BLACKBURN is speaking in Delaware and Maryland this week, but will be with us next Monday night. He speaks that day in Lancaster where he will doubtless be heard by thousands. A big horseback parade and other attractive features are being arranged for his appointment here, when he will warm up the boys as they have never been before. Let everybody hear him and be happy.

THE amount of stealing being done by Negroes to obtain fire wood is fearful. The inhabitants of Higheaton a short time back, laid a plank walk along their boulevard, all of which has been carried off and Negro women daily go into the fields in broad daylight with wheelbarrows and axes and cut up rails into stove wood and haul it off. If something isn't done, the country surrounding Stanford will soon be fenceless.

LOST between my house and Mrs. H. J. McRoberts, a child's green cloth jacket braided with black. Finder please return to Mrs. R. C. Warren.

THE Somerset Paragon names a whole raft of turkeys, and asks if they like Waddle, are mole hills. No, they do not even reach that importance. Plimire hills would better describe them.

THE trustees of the Hill Academy, the Female College and the Public School are requested to meet at J. B. Paxton's office on Saturday afternoon at 3:30. Important business is to be transacted.

PEAKE.—Judge R. G. Williams, who was on yesterday's train, asked us to announce that Hon. R. Frank Peake, of Shelbyville, will speak at Broadhead Thursday night at 7 o'clock and at Mt. Vernon Saturday at 1 P. M.

We can furnish presidents of clubs with some excellent literature for their members if they will call at this office. We secured the matter to send out in supplement form but Postmaster Florence denies us the privilege.

DEATH.—Mrs. Levia Gregory, the aged mother of Duncan Goodloe, of Boyle, died Sunday at Fort Estill, in Madison. She had suffered two strokes of paralysis and had been feeble for years. The burial occurs this afternoon.

WHILE coming over the bridge from Riffetown, a colored settlement, to Hustonville Saturday night, John Montgomery's head caught a rock which cut a fearful hole in it and which knocked him out for a while. Arthur Peyton beat up George Baldock, another West End Negro, in great style the same afternoon.

OLD man Oaks, who lives on the Crab Orchard pike, had William Hunt, the cripple, arrested for drawing a pistol on him and threatening to end his life then and there. He was tried before Judge Bailey Saturday and given 10 days in jail and fined $25, but the sentence was suspended. It seems that Hunt claimed that Oaks owed him a debt, which he denied and it was then that he produced the pistol and made the threats.

A THIEF seeing Mr. A. C. Sine's safe open from the window Sunday night thought it a good chance to make a haul and set to work to gain entrance to the room. It was effected by springing a staple and lock, but disappointment must have filled his soul, when he discovered that only Mr. Sine's books and a few unimportant papers were all that the safe contained and they were not disturbed. Singular as it may seem Mr. Sine never looks his safe, regarding it doubtless as safe open as locked.

HOW IS THIS?—Hon. James Andrew Scott, of Frankfort, spoke at Danville yesterday to a packed audience and among other things, said that he knew perhaps as much as any man who was not in the conspiracy, of the assassination of Goebel and that he was there to charge that at the meeting of the leaders at the Galt House, Louisville, to decide whether Mr. Goebel should be killed or not, Mr. Yerkes was present and whether he voted yea or nay, was equally guilty with the rest, as the decision was that the democratic leader must be removed, and Mr. Yerkes made no effort to prevent it.

LOST AN ARM.—The colored excursion train scored a victim here Sunday. Ed Salter, son of Fields Salter, jumped off the train and in trying to get back struck a cattle guard and was knocked under the wheels, which passed over his left arm, mangling it from the elbow down. Drs. Cook, Peyton and Parkhill were summoned and they finding that amputation was necessary cut off the arm midway between the shoulder and elbow. They also found him to be badly cut in the head and also hurt in the foot. He rallied, however, from the operation and will likely recover.

GILBERT.—A good audience heard an admirable speech at the court house by Congressman G. G. Gilbert, the close of a series of seven speeches made in the county during the week. To say that he added to his already large list of friends would be putting it mildly. He was greeted at each place with good audiences, especially at Kingsville, where the voters turned out in large numbers and gave him a most enthusiastic hearing. Mr. Gilbert has made us an excellent representative in Congress and our people are more than ever pleased with him. They know his worth better and realize that he is the man to continue to represent them. Dr. Williams hasn't the first qualification for the office and the better class of republicans will not support him, but will vote for the tried and true democrat, who will be able to do something for the district.

NEW barrel of country scrogum at Higgins & McKinney's.

Go to Cummins & McClary's and see what a nice suit of clothes $5 will buy.

$1.25 LADIES colored, undressed kid gloves. Price to close, 50c. J. P. Jones.

BON M. F. NORTH will address the democratic club at Crab Orchard Friday night. Every member is urged to be present.

A DEMOCRATIC club was organized at Mt. Salem the other night with a membership of 50. J. L. Bradshaw, was chosen president and Wm. North, Jr., secretary.

BETS were even that Yerkes would not carry Boyle at Danville yesterday. Democrats were in high feather, while republicans were seemingly down in the mouth.

BRECKINRIDGE.—Gen. R. J. Breckinridge will address the Moreland democratic club on Saturday afternoon week, Oct. 27. The club will make big preparations for his coming.

FIELDS SALTER and wife ask us to announce that owing to the accident to their son their silver wedding, which was to have been celebrated in big shape Thursday, has been postponed.

THE enterprising towns of Moreland is to have another industry. J. B. Myers, Sr., who sells a splendid wire fence, has perfected arrangements to manufacture it there. It will give employment to several people.

HON. W. H. ZEIGLER will speak for the prohibition ticket at the court house in Stanford tonight at 7 P. M. Everybody invited. He will also speak at Highland Oct. 17 at 1 P. M. McKinney, 18th at 7 P. M. Moreland, 19th at 7 P. M. and Crab Orchard, 22nd at 7 P. M.

SPEAKING IN ROCKCASTLE.—Hon. G. G. Gilbert will speak in Rockcastle at the following times and places: Mt. Vernon, 22nd, Livingston, 22nd, 7 P. M. Wildie 23rd, Broadhead 23rd, 7 P. M. Hon. Frank Peake will speak in Rockcastle at the following times: a d places: Wildie, 18th; Broadhead, 18th, 7 P. M.; Buffalo, 19th; Mt. Vernon, 20; Livingston 20th, 7 P. M.

THREE of our good democratic election workers are said to be marked for targets by the Negroes, who are of course put up to the devilish work by low white men who are too cowardly to do other than direct such things. Good white men are in the majority in Lincoln and if such a row is started on election day or any other day, as far as that is concerned, it will not be stopped until at least the white curs who originated the thought shall have been sent to Kingdom Come. Better turn a deaf ear to the man who gives such advice, colored man.

A NOTCH ON A STICK.—The Mt. Vernon Signal, the home paper of John Mason Williams, in discussing his candidacy, says: "No reason whatever can be urged in favor of sending him to Congress." In this conclusion we heartily concur. Young and altogether unlearned and inexperienced in political affairs, he would, if in Congress, be merely a notch on a stick. However, his lack of qualification will cut no figure with the republicans. He will be on their ticket and every one of them would vote that ticket straight, though it contained the name of his Satanic Majesty himself. It therefore behooves the democrats to be up and doing for Mr. Gilbert. Unlike Mr. Williams, no valid reason against his being sent to Congress can be presented. He achieved great reputation during his first term, and was recognized from the first as a man of ability. He was at all times faithful and energetic in looking after the affairs of his district and with his experience will be able hereafter to be still more efficient. The fact that Williams was nominated shows that the republicans had no hope of carrying the district, but we should be careful nevertheless and not allow him to catch us napping.

"Danville is full of cattle today, but on account of the dry weather there is not much demand for them, the best only bringing 40c," said Capt. English at Danville yesterday. Very few sold, some going as low as 30c. There was a demand for mules and mule colts. The former brought $100 to $140 and the latter $40 to $75.

THE YOUTSEY TRIAL.

The prosecution in the case of Henry Youtsey, charged with the murder of Gov. Goebel, has received a letter from a Cincinnati lawyer stating that the defendant's attorneys hold a pardon for their client given by W. S. Taylor before Goebel took the oath of office as governor. The writer also said that the pardon would be produced after the Commonwealth had rested its case.

Youtsey was much improved yesterday and his trial proceeded as he lay on a cot in the door of the jury room opening into the court. Arthur Goebel then deposed: "I saw Youtsey at the jail. He said that on Monday morning Dick Combs told him he was ready to kill Goebel. Continuing, Youtsey said, 'I went to Caleb Powers and asked him for the key to the secretary of State's office. Caleb told me to get the key from John Powers, and I did. I then went to Taylor and told him that Combs would kill Goebel. Taylor said he did not know we were ready to do that. Taylor said if it was necessary to kill Goebel, all right, but said it was too important to be done by a Negro. I went back to see Taylor on Tuesday morning and told him that Jim Howard was there. 'Well, go ahead, then,' said Taylor." "Taylor told me he would either send the man who did it to the mountains with a squad of soldiers or would pardon the men connected with it. I got the key from John Powers and Dick Combs to the secretary of State's office. I gave the cartridges to Jim Howard and told him they would fit either a Winchester or a Marlin rifle." At this point I asked Youtsey who fired the shot and he said: "Mr. Goebel. I don't know. I stepped to the door and stood there, but I gave the cartridges to Jim Howard."
